16 DAYS OF ACTIVISM AGAINST GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE CAMPAIGN EVENTS CALENDAR

All across the globe girls, women, and transgender and gender non-conforming individuals are victims of violence simply because of their gender identity or gender expression. In New York City, gender-based violent crimes continue to rise, even as our overall crime rate declines.

Participate in the City’s 16 Days of Activism Against Gender-Based Violence Campaign to prevent, reduce, and eliminate gender-based violence by wearing orange, participating in a digital campaign, and attending a citywide or local event between November 25th and December 10th, 2018. Join us to TAKE ACTION AGAINST GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE.

Step I: Get Informed

Learn more about gender-based violence and how it affects girls, women, transgender and gender non-conforming individuals.

Step II: Listen/Believe/Support

Listen to survivors’ stories without judgement. Believe survivors’ experiences. Support survivors in the ways they need and when they speak out about their experiences.

Step III: Take Action

If you find yourself or someone else in a vulnerable situation and in need of assistance:

- Call 9-1-1 or contact the NYC Mayor’s Office to End Domestic and Gender-Based Violence at 1-800-621-HOPE (4673).

Step IV: Repeat

Continue to raise awareness to prevent, reduce, and eliminate violence against women, girls, transgender and gender non-conforming individuals.

16 Days of Activism Against Gender-Based Violence Kick-off

City agencies and communities partners across NYC are turning their social media orange for 16 Days. There will be posts highlighting survivor voices, resources available, and upcoming events. Join us by pledging your support and using #EndGBVnyc on your posts. For a list of all community partners and their social media handles, please see the back of this flyer.

The Transgender Resource Center of Long Island’s 16 Days Against Transgender Violence

The Transgender Resource Center of Long Island will be promoting a campaign through each of their social media platforms with facts about gender based violence against the transgender community.

Telling Stories of Women Activists

Want to document, for the record, the impact a woman has made in your life? Use NYC’s open, crowd-sourced digital platform—www.womensactivism.nyc—to lift up the stories of women identified change-makers that you know. These stories will be maintained in perpetuity by NYC’s Department of Records in the Municipal Archives and is part of the department’s contribution to the 2020 Suffrage Centennial. womensactivism.nyc

PANEL DISCUSSION: What We Talk About When We Talk About Gender-Based Violence

Thursday, December 6th, 2018, 6:00pm-8:00pm

John Jay College
524 W. 59th Street
New York, NY 10019

Each day people bravely step forward and identify themselves as victims and survivors of sexual assault and harassment, and are increasingly also identifying themselves as victims and survivors of other forms of gender-based violence, which can include among other things human trafficking, street harassment, stalking and hypersexualization.
How do you support New Yorkers who confront this situation? How do help prevent, reduce, and eliminate gender-based violence? Hear from a survivor, a policy maker, a service provider as they work to create safe environments for all New Yorkers regardless of gender identity or gender expression.

PANELISTS:

- Sohaila Abdulali, Author, What We Talk About When We Talk About Rape
- Cecile Noel, Commissioner, Mayor’s Office to End Domestic and Gender-Based Violence
- Michelle Grier, Director of Social Services, Girls for Gender Equity
- Carmelyn Malalis, Commissioner, New York City Commission on Human Rights, Moderator
